1. Montessori Adults

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>EXEMPLARY</th>
<th>SATISFACTORY</th>
<th>NEEDS IMPROVEMENT</th>
<th>UNSATISFACTORY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>All teachers are fully trained at the appropriate level and hold a state teaching license.</td>
<td>90% of all teachers are fully trained at the appropriate level, with the remainder in the process of earning a Montessori credential from an accredited Montessori training center.</td>
<td>85% of all teachers are fully trained at the appropriate level, with the remainder in the process of earning a Montessori credential from an accredited Montessori training center.</td>
<td>Less than 85% of all teachers are fully trained at the appropriate level.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Auxiliary staff (special education, PE) are Montessori trained or oriented.</td>
<td>All Montessori principles are evident in the action of all adults; key actions include: speaking softly, clearly, and respectfully to children and adults, refraining from offering unnecessary help, inviting, as opposed to commanding, student engagement in meaningful work.</td>
<td>Montessori principles are evident in many, but not all actions of adults.</td>
<td>Absence of robust knowledge of Montessori theory and practice is evident in the actions of adults; key actions include: interrupting students who are concentrating, using a loud, intrusive voice, attempting to control rather than model respectful behavior.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The school employs teachers that have specialist Montessori qualifications for the age group they teach, in addition to appropriate state early childhood, elementary or secondary school teaching qualifications. All adults in the school, whether or not they are Montessori trained, embrace the core Montessori principles and embody a deep respect for the developmental process, the natural tendencies of children, the goal of independence, and practices of grace and courtesy.

The school provides one paraprofessional assistant for each classroom along with Montessori orientation for that role. The school provides an Orientation workshop for all assistants. All assistants play an integral role in the culture of the classroom, providing support in the care of the environment, modeling positive behavior, assisting the teacher when students need redirection, and other duties as assigned by the teacher.

The school provides an Orientation workshop for all assistants. The school provides an Orientation workshop for all assistants. Many assistants play an integral role in the culture of the classroom.

The school has a pipeline for recruiting, training, hiring, and retaining high quality Montessori teachers. The school sponsors between two and four teachers for Montessori training annually. The school provides a robust Assistant’s/Fundamentals Course annually. The school has a strong relationship with a Montessori training center. The school recruits broadly and provides a substantive interview and induction process for all prospective and new hires.

The school recruits broadly and provides a substantive interview and induction process for all prospective and new hires. The school’s operating budget supports Montessori training for at least one new teacher a year. The school offers orientation and professional development specifically designed to support classroom assistants.

The school’s budget supports sponsorship for Montessori training for at least one new teacher a year. The school offers orientation and professional development specifically designed to support classroom assistants.

The school provides an Orientation workshop for all assistants. Some assistants play an integral role in the culture of the classroom.

The school has a strong relationship with a Montessori training center. The school recruits broadly and provides a substantive interview and induction process for all prospective and new hires.

The school has a pipeline for recruiting, training, hiring, and retaining high quality Montessori teachers.

All staff members engage in ongoing Montessori professional development. A palpable emphasis on global citizenship, environmental stewardship, and grace & courtesy is evident in formal as well as informal school activities. The vast majority of staff members report a culture of safety and respect.

Some staff members engage in ongoing Montessori professional development. Most staff members report feeling safe and respected within the school culture.

Staff members do not engage in ongoing Montessori professional development. There is evidence that not all staff are aligned regarding the aims and methods of the educational program.

Staff members report a culture of disrespect and emotional insecurity.

The school has no systems in place to ensure a reliable pipeline of high quality Montessori teachers.
2. Montessori Learning Environment

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>EXEMPLARY</th>
<th>SATISFACTORY</th>
<th>NEEDS IMPROVEMENT</th>
<th>UNSATISFACTORY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| The daily practice of Montessori pedagogy is supported by a clearly defined Montessori scope and sequence¹. | □ The Montessori scope & sequence is included in faculty and family handbooks
     □ Faculty and staff at every level are familiar with the entire scope of the program and are able to articulate core concepts with confidence | □ The Montessori scope & sequence (see appendix for samples) is included in faculty and family handbooks
     □ Most faculty members are able to articulate the full scope of the program with confidence. | A copy of the Montessori scope & sequence (see appendix for samples) is available in the school building, but not a prominent part of school literature or culture | Faculty and Staff are following a Scope and Sequence that conflicts with Montessori pedagogy |
| The school’s learning environments feature large, mixed-age groupings of children: 2.5-6, 6-9, 9-12, 12-15, 15-18. | □ All of the school’s environments reflect three-year instructional cycles
     □ Classroom communities feature no fewer than 24 students supervised by no more than two adults (Communities of over 30 children, and Adolescent communities, may include more adults)
     □ The primary point of entry to the program is age 3 or 4
     □ For students who enter after age four, the school has a well-elaborated orientation and induction program | □ All environments reflect three-year instructional cycles.
     □ Classroom communities feature no fewer than 24 students supervised by no more than two adults
     □ Significant numbers of Syear-olds may enter without prior Montessori experience.
     □ The school has a well-developed process for orienting and inducting these new students and families. | □ Within mixed age environments, children are segregated by age, gender or ability
     □ The school has a stand-alone program for 5 year-olds (calling it “kindergarten”) but is working toward achieving a full 3-6 program, and has a reliable method for orienting these children.
     □ Students age-out of the school at a point other than at the end of a 3 year cycle (i.e., at a point other than after K, 3rd, 6th, 9th or 12th grades) | □ The school has a single or two-year graded classrooms.
     □ The school has a stand-alone program for 5 year-olds (calling it “Kindergarten”) and no reliable method for orienting these children.
     □ Children are segregated by age, gender or ability. |
| Specialty programs such as music, art, and second languages are integrated into the three-hour work cycle. | □ The Montessori teachers are confident in their delivery of Montessori music, using bells, tone bars and other materials integral to this part of the program
     □ Materials for making and viewing art are visible on shelves, which students have access to throughout the week
     □ The school employs bilingual staff to support an immersion approach to second-language instruction | □ Specialty programs (music art, second language) are offered as separate classes, but do not interrupt extended work periods
     □ Students have ongoing access to Montessori music materials -- bells, tone bars, etc. | Specialty programs (music art, second language) are offered as separate classes, usually during afternoon work periods
     □ Students have limited access to Montessori music materials -- bells, tone bars, etc. | Specialty programs such as music, art, and second languages are delivered by non-Montessori-trained specialists during AM/PM work periods
     □ There are separate morning and afternoon classes
     □ Students have no access to Montessori music materials -- bells, tone bars, etc. |
| The school’s learning environments enable children to be active for long uninterrupted (ideally 3 hours) periods | □ AM work periods last 3 hours for all classrooms
     □ Most PM work periods (for older children) are 2 hours, with limited interruption for specials and other programmed activity | □ AM work periods last 2.5-3 hours for all classrooms
     □ Most PM work periods (for older children) are 2 hours, with limited interruption for specials and | □ AM work periods last 2-2.5 hours for all classrooms
     □ PM work period (for older children) are 2 hours, but 2-3 times a week, those periods | Work time is divided into small portions -- e.g.: Readers or Writers Workshop, Literacy Block -- with limited opportunity for children to concentrate on |

¹ This copyrighted document may be freely used and distributed. No written permission is required. However, we appreciate your crediting NCMPS as the original source.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Essential Elements on Montessori Practice in the Public Sector</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>of time.</th>
<th>other programmed activity</th>
<th>are taken up with specials and other programmed activity.</th>
<th>self-selected work.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The full compliment of Montessori materials is available in every area, representing the majority of materials on all shelves; additional materials conform to Montessori standards of order, beauty, and simplicity.</td>
<td>Montessori materials are meticulously cared for and displayed in an orderly and inviting manner, representing the majority of work available to students.</td>
<td>Montessori materials are visible, but the majority of work involves other materials and resources, such as worksheets, text books, and computers.</td>
<td>Montessori materials may be visible, but the majority of work involves other materials and resources, such as worksheets, text books, and computers.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Instruction is characterized by a high degree of student choice in what to work on, where to work, how long to work.</td>
<td>Students can choose to work at tables, on rugs on the floor, or outside.</td>
<td>Students have choice regarding where and what to work on for part of the day.</td>
<td>Student movement is restricted.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The learning environment offers ongoing access to real-world materials and activities</td>
<td>Practical life is a prominent area in the room; students have ample opportunity to engage in food preparation.</td>
<td>Practical life is a prominent area in the room; students have ample opportunity to engage in food preparation.</td>
<td>Practical life is absent from the environment.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>There is a well-prepared and accessible outdoor learning environment.</td>
<td>Students have access to the outdoors.</td>
<td>Food is prepared by adults.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The environment includes a comfortable reading corner, which is accessible to students throughout the day.</td>
<td>The environment includes a comfortable reading corner, which is accessible to students throughout the day.</td>
<td>The only access to outdoors is during “recess.”</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

This copyrighted document may be freely used and distributed. No written permission is required. However, we appreciate your crediting NCMPS as the original source.

© NCMPS, 2015
| The Montessori curriculum is integrated with, but not driven by, state standards, including CCSS, where applicable. | Faculty and staff are able to discuss how the school meets state standards without compromising the integrity of Montessori practice. | A process of aligning Montessori and state standards is underway. Some faculty members are able to discuss the school’s approach to meeting standards while not compromising Montessori integrity. Teachers almost always “lead with the materials” and then backwards map onto the standards. | Many members of the faculty are confused about the connection between state standards of core Montessori practice. Teachers “lead with the standards” and then look for Montessori materials that teach them. | Learning is entirely driven by state standards. |
| ELL and SPED students are fully included and supported within the classroom. | Montessori teachers are dual certified as SPED teachers and able address all but most significant learning issues through the Montessori program. | Specialists come in the classroom but work with the ELL and SPED students apart from the rest of the group and exclusively through non-Montessori materials. | ELL and SPED students are pulled out of the Montessori classroom for large portions of the day. | ELL and SPED students have a separate program for most or all of the day. |
3. Family Engagement

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>EXEMPLARY</th>
<th>SATISFACTORY</th>
<th>NEEDS IMPROVEMENT</th>
<th>UNSATISFACTORY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| The school is characterized by a strong partnership between home and school, which is evident in all formal and informal communications. | □ There is a well-developed Family Handbook, which elaborates mutual expectations in clear, accessible language.
  □ The school engages in robust, two-way communication, which begins prior to enrollment and is visible in the school’s website, newsletters, letters home, processes for parent-teacher conferences.
  □ All relevant documents are translated into languages reflecting the school’s population
  □ The school’s Parent Engagement plan may include home-visits.
  □ Faculty and staff come from and/or reflect the ethnic, linguistic and racial makeup of the student-body. | □ There is a well-developed Family Handbook, which elaborates mutual expectations in clear, accessible language.
  □ The school maintains an active website.
  □ Most classrooms distribute newsletters and other regular communications such as websites, blogs, or Google groups.
  □ Highest priority documents are translated into the languages reflecting the school’s population.
  □ Efforts are made to hire faculty and staff that come from and/or reflect the ethnic, linguistic and racial makeup of the student-body. | □ A Family Handbook exists, but is out-of-date and not widely distributed.
  □ Communication between home and school is limited to informing families of events, deadlines, and other administrative matters.
  □ Some classrooms distribute newsletters and other regular communications, but there is no coordinated system for ensuring that all members of the community are informed.
  □ Translation services are limited. | □ A Family Handbook may exist, but is out-of-date and not widely distributed.
  □ Communication between home and school is sporadic, and usually in the form of announcements from the administration.
  □ Translations are sporadic or non-existent. |
| The school provides ongoing opportunities for parent education, including information sessions, discussion groups, observation of classrooms, and parent-teacher-student conferences | □ The Enrollment process features multiple opportunities for informing parents about the nature of Montessori and the family commitment expected by the school. These events are well planned and executed, and attended by large numbers of prospective families.
  □ There is a robust family induction process, including open houses, orientation evenings, and networking with experienced families.
  □ Parent education opportunities are offered monthly. | □ The Enrollment process features some opportunities to inform parents about the nature of Montessori and the family commitment expected by the school
  □ The school offers an orientation evening for new families.
  □ Parent education opportunities are offered quarterly. | □ The Enrollment process may feature events such as open houses, but they are poorly advertised and sparsely attended.
  □ The school offers an annual Open House.
  □ Parent education opportunities are offered sporadically. | □ The Enrollment process includes no opportunities for families to learn about the school; many families enroll without any knowledge of what Montessori education is
  □ No adult education opportunities are offered. |
| The school cultivates a strong school-home association, in which parents have authentic opportunities. | □ The school maintains a designated space for parents to gather, which includes a resource library filled with | □ The school’s School-Home or Parents Association is active, with parent leaders visible in the school. | □ The school has a School-Home Association, but it is not active.
  □ The school’s board and/or | □ There are no formal conduits through which families can participate in the school. |

This copyrighted document may be freely used and distributed. No written permission is required. However, we appreciate your crediting NCMPS as the original source.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Essential Elements on Montessori Practice in the Public Sector</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>to contribute meaningfully to the school’s mission and communicate with school leadership</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The school employs a Community Engagement specialist, who supports the family community by partnering with parent leaders, assisting in the coordination of volunteer opportunities.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>There is an active school board and/or governance council with significant family representation.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minutes of all meetings are shared with the entire community.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>There is significant family presence on the school’s board or governance council</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minutes of all meetings are shared with the entire community.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>governance council may have family representation, but families do not regularly attend meetings</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minutes of meetings are not regularly shared with the community.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Families report feeling unwelcome in the school.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

This copyrighted document may be freely used and distributed. No written permission is required. However, we appreciate your crediting NCMPS as the original source.
4. Leadership and Organizational Development

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>EXEMPLARY</th>
<th>SATISFACTORY</th>
<th>NEEDS IMPROVEMENT</th>
<th>UNSATISFACTORY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The school employs an experienced Montessori educator to guide the implementation of the Montessori program, if not as building principal, then as Program Director, Curriculum Coordinator or Instructional Coach.</td>
<td>□ The school leader has deep knowledge of Montessori principles and practices, and demonstrates effective communication and advocacy for full implementation of the Montessori program.</td>
<td>□ The School Leader is not Montessori trained, but is enthusiastically engaged in ongoing Montessori professional development.</td>
<td>□ The School Leader is unwilling to engage in Montessori professional development.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The school has a clear vision for how it delivers Montessori education and has an active cycle of reflection and self-review</td>
<td>□ The school has a current and active strategic/school improvement plan, which is grounded in Montessori principles, informed by multiple constituents, and widely understood and embraced by the school community.</td>
<td>□ The school has a living strategic/school improvement plan, which is grounded in Montessori principles, informed by multiple constituents, and made available to the school community.</td>
<td>□ The School Leader regards Montessori as an aspect of the school program rather than the essence of the school program.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The school maintains membership in one or more Montessori professional organizations, and seeks accreditation to ensure professional quality</td>
<td>□ The school is accredited by at least one of the major Montessori professional organizations</td>
<td>□ The school maintains membership in at least one of the major Montessori professional organizations</td>
<td>□ The School Leader engages in teacher evaluation and program development systems that are in conflict with Montessori principles and practice.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

© NCMPS, 2015

This copyrighted document may be freely used and distributed. No written permission is required. However, we appreciate your crediting NCMPS as the original source.
5. Assessment

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>EXEMPLARY</th>
<th>SATISFACTORY</th>
<th>NEEDS IMPROVEMENT</th>
<th>UNSATISFACTORY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| The school employs an assessment protocol that integrates measures of academic achievement with those of executive functions such as self-regulation, initiation, and cognitive flexibility. | - The school tracks multiple indicators of success through means such as alumni, parent, and receiving teacher surveys
- The school uses cognitive measures such as the Flanker Inhibitory Control Task, or the BRIEF, to document wide-scope developmental outcomes
- The school maintains profiles of all students based on narrative appraisal, work sampling, as well as performance on standardized academic measures. | - The school is in the process of developing a protocol that allows the documentation of social and emotional outcomes
- The school maintains profiles of all students based on narrative appraisal, work sampling, as well as performance on standardized academic measures. | - The school includes narrative appraisals of social and emotional development as part of its assessment and reporting protocols, but has no larger system for tracking wide-scope student outcomes. | - The only form of assessment is state-mandated tests
- Results are reported without context
- Minimal standards of proficiency drive instruction |
| Qualitative Assessment, in the form of observation and documentation, is ongoing, personalized, and drives all instructional decisions. | - Regular, recorded observation is the basis of planning and assessment
- The school uses an on-line record-keeping system to ensure that data are collected and managed effectively
- Teachers can be seen making time daily to record observed activity within the environment
- An “Observers Chair” is visible in the environment
- Teachers meet weekly as teams to discuss student progress, reflect collectively on challenges, and share potential solutions. | - Regular, recorded observation is the basis of planning and assessment
- Some members of the faculty use an on-line record-keeping system to ensure that data are collected and managed effectively
- Teachers can be seen making time daily to record observed activity within the environment
- An “Observers Chair” is visible in the environment
- Teachers meet occasionally as teams to discuss student progress, reflect collectively on challenges, and share potential solutions. | - Some teachers can be seen making time daily to record observed activity with the environment, but there is no link to larger system of data management
- Some classrooms have an “Observers Chair” | - There is no evidence of ongoing, recorded observation.
- Teachers do not meet to reflect on student progress |
| Assessments are delivered in the least obtrusive manner possible | - Formative and summative assessments are delivered to individual students during work periods
- Tests are treated as Practical Life activities, with minimal fanfare or work disruption
- Test preparation is limited to practice experiences designed to familiarize students with format and language | - Summative assessments are delivered during testing windows
- Total test preparation constitutes no more than one week of student work time | - Formative and summative assessments are delivered to the whole school/whole class during prescribed testing windows
- Test preparation constitutes more than two weeks of student work time. | - Testing windows overtake the entire school day, with work periods suspended, students grouped in grade-levelcohorts, and proctored by unfamiliar teachers
- Preparing for tests drives the school’s program |

This copyrighted document may be freely used and distributed. No written permission is required. However, we appreciate your crediting NCMPS as the original source.
| As students mature, they are increasingly involved in monitoring their own progress | At the elementary level students begin keeping daily journals of their work. Teachers regularly confer with students to assist in the development of personal learning goals and to reflect on progress. Beginning in the elementary, students regularly participate in parent-teacher discussions of student progress. | Students keep work journals, but they are not regularly employed in the self-assessment process. Teachers sometimes confer with students to assist in the development of personal learning goals and to reflect on progress. | Students are given assigned “work plans” for which they have little input in developing or reflecting on. Work plans require the teacher to “check-off” completed work rather than allowing students to manage their time and productivity. | Students are disconnected from the assessment process, except to receive grades. |